Hello, Sharon. I was able to attend the recent meeting in Kingman regarding the Hualapai Valley Basin INA. Unfortunately, however, I had to leave early and am not sure if my particular question was answered.

At any rate, I would like to know what data was used in stating that the inflow of water to the Hualapai Valley Basin is 12,000 acre feet. I don't believe that was ever stated. I understand the outflow, but not the inflow statistics.

Thank you so much and thanks to the ADWR for the presentation. I really wish there were a lot more people who believe we need to show a huge concern now over our water supplies!
