If you selected no above, please explain why:

I think it further complicates an already complicated and difficult to manage program. It is understandable to try to get to a granular level and make a program equitable, however, I am not certain that all of the entities have the resources available to provide the level and quality of data that make a more granular program reliable.

With regard to the default percentages, please select any potential options which are reasonable:

How can we improve these subgroup meetings?

Thanks so much for having these meetings and being available to discuss options. :)
